For the last 28 years, Discovery Service Projects has been sending volunteers to Central America and Mexico for extended periods of time. We have built houses, sanctuaries, clinics, schools, community centers, installed vented stoves and water filters, and worked on water projects.

Beginning January 25, 2015, DSP volunteers will spend three weeks in Palmares , Alajuela, near San Jose, the capital of Costa Rica.

We will be working on classrooms for the Palmares congregation. It will be a center of distribution for the Rice and Beans Ministry.

Each volunteer will spend two or three days delivering food bags to local families We will be spending time with the children doing crafts, playing games, reading Bible stories.
