County, State & National Granges

Plumsteadville Grange is part of a larger Grange community.

Bucks County Pomona Grange is comprised of the local Granges in the county (Plumsteadville, Edgewood and Middletown), and meets quarterly. We support a number of local charities through our annual donation program.

Pennsylvania State Grange - Delegates from over 270 local Granges convene annually in October to establish policies that affect local, state and national legislation. The State Grange retains the services of a lobbying firm to influence legislation in Harrisburg. For more info visit www.pagrang.org

National Grange - Founded in 1867, National Grange was the first organization of farmers in the nation, and remains the only fraternal farm organization. With headquarters in Washington, DC, it provides legislative briefings and influences legislation on a national level. Benefits to members include discounts on select products and services. Plumsteadville Grange

Formed in 1917, Our local community-based organization meets on the 2nd Wednesday of each month. Activities include our Farm Market, Quilting Group, community service and more.

Built in the 1920's, our Grange hall is a very busy place. It serves as a meeting place for 4-H clubs and scouting troops, a local church, our own quilting circle, and community groups with various interests.

The hall is also available for rent for private events such as birthday or anniversary parties. The hall offers two stories of meeting space and a smoke-free environment, plentiful off-street parking, and accessibility via an entrance ramp and chair lift to the second floor.

We are located across the intersection of Rte. 611 & Kellers Church Road.
