

WASHINGTON-YAMHILL POMONA

THE YEAR OF EMPOWERMENT

"The best way to predict the future is to create it."

~ Abraham Lincoln
WhollyMKT.com

A big shout out to Wendy Socha from the VA. I had been working on the newsletter when I received her contribution (see page 2). As all things in life, sometimes the direction you think you are going takes a turn. While looking for inspirational quotes to go with her contribution I came across a quote from President Lincoln (to the left)

For 2022, I thought perhaps our resolutions can be confined to written resolutions submitted to Pomona, State, and National Grange. This year we will put aside making personal resolutions that far exceed our ability to keep in this ever changing world around us. Instead, let us explore how to empower ourselves, look at the options we are presented and the opportunities that can change our direction - "just don't be afraid to weigh your options" as the saying goes.

With that, in our newsletter we will read about individuals and groups of people who did not allow obstacles to hinder their progress. They did experience setbacks (see PUD's pg 9), but they manage to overcome them. We will also find a few tools to put in our toolbox for future reference and ideas on how to empower ourselves.

Jacques Cousteau is quoted as saying "The Sea, once it casts its spell, holds one in its net of wonder forever." – With that said May the future like the sea cast a spell of beauty and wonder.

"When one door of happiness closes, another opens; but often we look so long at the closed door that we do not see the one which has been opened for us."

Veterans Update.

Am I eligible to file for VA disability compensation?

Veterans that have an illness or injury that was caused by or was aggravated by active military service may be eligible to file for compensation benefits through the VA. Veterans are eligible to file a claim if they have a current illness or injury that affects the body or mind and they served on active duty, active duty for training or inactive duty for training. Additionally, at least one of the following statements must be true.

You were injured or sick while serving in the military and can link this condition to your current illness or injury.

An illness or injury that you had prior to your military service was made worse by your military service.

You have a disability related to your active-duty service that didn't appear until after you ended your service.

Some examples of VA disability claims are: hearing loss, PTSD, certain cancers, depression, ulcers, and anxiety. For more information about other conditions that may be covered by VA disability, go to the VA's Public Disability Benefits Questionnaires (DBQs) page at https://www.benefits.va.gov/compensation/dbq_publicdbqs.asp

To get help filing a claim for VA disability compensation, please contact Washington County Disability, Aging and Veteran Services at 503-846-3060. Veteran Service Officers are available to assist veterans and their families with filing VA claims free of charge.

STANDING COMMITTEES

Above photo of Skyline Grange Artisan Fair - copied from the Internet. Currently, I lost my ability to draw from my stash of photos.

Some highlights of "Standing Committees" are sprinkled throughout the newsletter.

GWA: Margaret Clute encouraged us to participate in the GWA contest. If you do not have a handbook you can find the information by going to:

<http://orgrange.org/grange-workers-activities/>

PLEASE NOTE: State Grange has not updated the GWA contest in the above web page. However, it does give you an idea of how to prepare for 2022 GWA contests & we will let you know when the page gets updated.

In April we will learn more about GWA and it's history.

Education: Sam reported on the Newberg school board recall, which arose from a ban on political signs in schools. The effect seems to be more signs in yards. Normally, Linda Dorland would make a report, but she is recovering from an accident. We hope to see her at our April meeting.

Membership: Peggy Ivy reported that someone posted on Craigslist a very accurate description of the Grange. She is looking for the person to get permission to use for other advertising.

Legislative. Jim Clute reported that it's a mess in D.C.

Agriculture: John Knox reported that "It's wet."

"I can skip my bath. On the way home I jumped in all the puddles."

JUNIOR CD

Mystery Solve!

Thanks to the Worthy Secretary Marilyn Reiher.

Marilyn spent hours researching and recording the memories of our members. After looking through the minutes from April 26, 1997 to July 28, 2007, Marilyn found:

- *The money came from Fernwood Grange #770.
- *The funds "was to be used exclusively for the Junior Grange program, i.e., campships, start up of Junior Granges or to help with other Junior expenses that may occur."

For those who missed the reminiscing, we listened to stories of bands, musical instruments, I remember one such story from a Winona member who talked about loading up the band members and instruments into an old car with the rumble seat pulled up then heading off to State Grange to play.

The stories that come "out of the mouth of babes" who attended Grange camp along with stories of finding treasures left behind from past Junior Grange, such as Tigard when they were cleaning their hall. The effort made by Marilyn when a small group of future Grange hopefuls gathered at Leedy for about a year.

Perhaps we will once again find our halls filled with family and friends as we listen to McMinnville's report of new members and stumble across a nice write up about Skyline Grange on the front page of the January 2022 Skyline Ridge Runner.

Personal observation:

Resolutions are really hard to write well, right up there with being able to perform the Assistant & Lady Assistant Steward (the floor work is harder than it looks if you try to fill in)

My advice - Do Not Give Up

Not all resolutions and ideas get further than out your mouth and on paper. Many times that is far enough to get you a good dose of what the membership thinks. Writing resolutions not only require an idea and the ability to write, it requires the ability to be thick skinned and open minded. Not all the ideas that have been presented to my home Grange (Washington Grange #313) get very far, but a few have made it out the door, only to fail at the National level. - Again - don't give up

For 2022

So far we have adopted the following:

- Property Tax Billing, submitted by Washington Grange
- Care Providers and the Human Touch, submitted by Washington Grange

More to come.

I took a few snow days & came across "International Dance Day" which falls on April 29th, so I asked Sam who is into Irish Music to recommend a good dance tune.

He sent me this:

What is nice about the above link is it also has the Quilt Barn Trail which we covered in the 2018, 3rd quarter newsletter:

Deaf Awareness & Family Health

New service

Oregon is setting up ways to alert law enforcement if the driver could be deaf or hard of hearing. Starting January 3, 2022, Oregonians can add an indicator to their vehicle registration, driver license, permit or ID card through DMV. Currently the indicator is voluntary and can be done by visiting: DMV2U.Oregon.gov

To learn more about the program please see:

Alert Your Family First

The 2021 Oregon Legislature, under House Bill 3125, created an emergency contact service for Oregon residents. Starting Jan. 3, 2022, you can register up to two people, age 18 and older, as emergency contacts for situations where you can't communicate. For more information see:

Little Sister to The Rescue

This is a Feel Good story about Estrella Salazar, a 17-year-old from Nezahual Coyotl, Mexico who was inspired by her older sister to develop an app to help deaf and hard of hearing Mexicans to communicate more easily. According to the article there are an estimated 4.6 million Mexicans who are deaf or hard of hearing. THE CONNECTION

Woodie Guthrie,

Bonneville Power Administration & The Grange

Elmer Buelhler, a Grange member, was given the task of chauffeuring Woody Guthrie around the Columbia Gorge area and beyond. Mr. Guthrie was given the task of writing songs for the Bonneville Power Administration. Woody had never stepped foot in Oregon until that faithful assignment. BPA was only 3 years old and competing with private utilities.

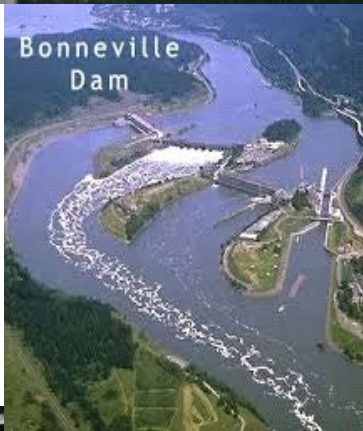

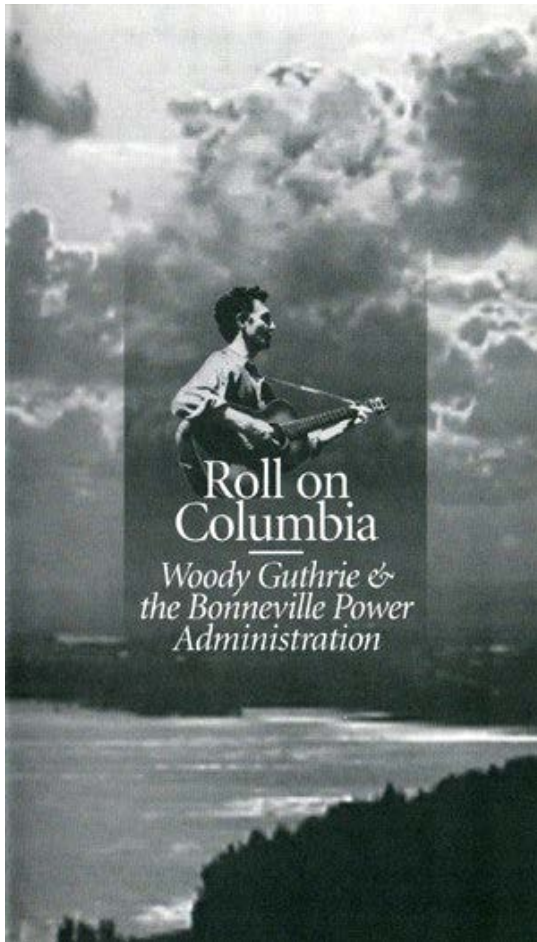

The Bonneville Power Administration wanted a way to reach the "common man" and they hired Mr. Guthrie to write 26 songs in thirty days.

The plan was to incorporate Mr. Guthrie's songs into a feature film showing what the dam could do for the Northwest. The following December, Pearl Harbor was bombed and the U. S. was thrown into World War II. After the war the Eisenhower administration ordered all the films to be destroyed.

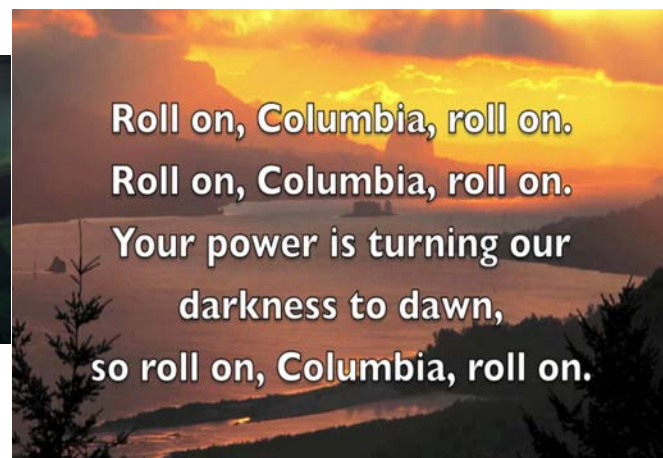

Elmer Buelhler was ordered to do the incinerating but kept one copy for himself. This copy that was saved from destruction was used to create "Roll on Columbia, Woody Guthrie & The Bonneville Power Administration" documentary.

Before Elmer Buelhler had the chance to chauffeur Woody Guthrie, Oregon had yet another Grange member playing a vital role in the formation of the Bonneville Power Administration.

Congressman, Walter Pierce not only served as Oregon's Governor from 1923 – 1927 but served on the Oregon State Grange Executive Committee 1930 – 1934. At the age of 72 Walter Pierce was elected to Congress, serving his terms during the Roosevelt years. Walter Pierce was founder of the Public Power League and an advocate for using the Columbia River for hydroelectric power. His belief in public power help influence the direction the Bonneville Power Administration would take.

Coming together
is a beginning;

Henry Ford

January of 2021, we learned about Oliver Hudson Kelley traveling up the Mississippi in 1866 and envisioning the strength of individuals uniting. We also found Washington State Grange Master, Tom Gwin echoing that vision - (see:

<https://www.grange.org/washingtonyamhillor2/files/2021/02/January-2021.pdf> &

For 2022, we are going to shed some light on what can be accomplished when individuals work together and over come obstacles.

The State of Washington was the first state in the nation to allow voters to form Public Utility Districts (PUDs). Passage was a monumental task when you consider what the people were up against and what the private utility companies stood to lose. Gus Norwood (in his book "Washington Grange Celebrate a Century") wrote that the Grange set up headquarters in the Railway Exchange Building in Seattle to gather signed petitions. When they arrived the following morning, they found the office raided and the petitions missing, they then moved the petitions to safety deposit boxes. However, some of the volunteers took the petitions to the power company and returned with copies of the originals, rendering them useless. Despite the opposition, more than 60,000 signatures were collected to send initiative No. 1 to the Legislature, allowing rural communities to form PUDs. The Legislature failed to act and the measure went to a statewide election, where it passed in 1930 with 54% of the vote.

Oregon was right behind Washington in adopting the formation of PUDs. In 1931 the Oregon Legislature implemented ORS 261. Today the State of Washington has far more PUDs than Oregon. The small number of PUDs in Oregon may be due to the fact that electric rates were low and the resistance the private utility companies put up (see – PUD – Congressional Inquiry Needed, - Oregon State Grange Bulletin, September 20, 1944). Locally our Grange District No. 3 contains half of Oregon's PUDs. Tillamook was the first to achieve a PUD, with county voters' approval, on July 23, 1933. However, the first hookup was not until October of 1946. Clatskanie followed with operations beginning in 1943. The Columbia River PUD can trace its origins to November 18, 1939 when 65 residents met at Beaver Homes Grange hall, although service was not started until 1984 when the Columbia River PUD (see: <https://www.crpud.net/>) began providing service to 6,500 customers.

Oregon's six Public Utility Districts are members of Oregon People's Utility District Association (OPUDA – see: <http://www.opuda.org/>). The purpose of the association is to provide a forum for the member districts to discuss national, regional, state and local issues of common concern and to formulate position on those issues. In 2009 the president of the OPUDA was Carol Everman, Secretary of Beaver Valley Grange and Columbia Pomona Grange at the time.

Today, Grange members still have opportunities to build upon our legacy of advocacy. As community members, we are constantly finding ways to be involved and making this a better place to live.
